Within this 9th Chambers Of My Mind it subs divides more and more there's always growth within my mind. Inhaling and exhaling Oxygen is an honor to do on a daily basis be thankful for it it's a luxury that we don't realize. When that time comes the moment you stop breathing that Oxygen you'll realize how valuable it is but then it's too late you took your last breath. So while you are in the process of breathing be thankful for it everyday. Within this 9th chambers of my mind is subdivides more and more there's always growth within my mind. Water is everywhere we live it we breathe it we bathe in it.
